

Red John PSH Community Liaison Group Newsletter

Hi all,

We promised in our 1st newsletter (August 2021) to provide a quarterly update until a more definitive timeline around the construction phase is finalised and the Community Liaison Group formed.

Latest Position

The project received formal planning consent in June of this year.

A detailed report from the PLI can be found at <http://www.energyconsents.scot/>, using project reference ECU00000728.

All key consents and licenses are now in place.

We met with the Highland council planning department and intend to start work to discharge planning conditions in the new year.

Moving Forward

There are several factors that need to come together before a large hydro project of this nature can move to the construction phase. We are in discussions with a major development partner and hope to have arrangements in place in the coming months.

We would not expect there to be any major mobilisation for at least 12 months, although we will keep the local community informed as this develops.

The project has a grid connection date of summer 2027 and this is the completion target date for the development.

Fish Farm

We have remained in discussions with MOWI, and they are now moving the fish farm back to its original location. It is anticipated that this will be the location that the fish farm will occupy once construction on Red John is complete.
